
Gaps are rejected horizon measurements, not zeros. Exterior norms use each run's own horizon cutoff.

These curves test qualitative agreement; they do not separate resolution, timestep, stencil, and interface errors.